The Czech company Dul Radim decided to build a plant in Prudnik. The launch of production is planned for June 2020. The plant will be built at Przemysłowa Street, in the area previously covered by the Wałbrzych Special Economic Zone. According to the new law, the company has been granted income tax exemption on the part of Katowice Special Economic Zone. The company has its own shale stone mines in the Czech Republic and from there the raw material for processing in Prudnik will come. The company declares an investment of about PLN 100 million, which will contribute to the employment of 200 people.
