This November (15th-17th), during ENERGETICS Fair for the energy industry, Lublin will become the centre of the Polish energy industry.

This November (15th-17th), during ENERGETICS Fair for the energy industry, Lublin will become the centre of the Polish energy industry. ENERGETICS is one of the leading Polish events dedicated to the professionals from the energy industry. During this exhibition, both the concerns (national and international ones) as well as the individual entrepreneurs will present their state-of-the-art equipment, devices and technology for the energy industry.

The Fair attracts visitors from Poland, Belarus, Ukraine and Russia. They represent the companies working in: fuel-energy, electromechanics, mining, construction, metallurgy and motor industry. Moreover, the specialists who attend the fair are the employees of: the power distribution companies, power stations, heat and power plants, energy departments in companies and industries, electrical warehouses, project management departments in energy and construction industries, subcontracting companies as well as local governments. They are also engineers, electrical engineers and installers.

The program of the event includes seminars, conferences and trainings which will discuss the most up-to-date topics in the industry. The topics will revolve around saving electrical energy, constructing different generations of photovoltaic cells, rating the power of photovoltaic installations, bio-economy and passive buildings.

The novelties of the IX ENERGETICS 2016 edition are the Event for Maintenance and the XVIII edition of Polish Young Electrician Days (Ogólnopolskie Dni Młodego Elektryka).

For the first time, ENERGETICS will be held together with Eastern Days of Cooperation, which create a meeting place for the subcontractors and cooperatives from the national and foreign industries. Furthermore, INFOSTRADA Broadband Technologies Fair will be a part of the event. Business representatives enter the event for free after registration. The registration is available online and during the event.

The registration form can be accessed via the website: www.energetics.targi.lublin.pl.

IX Lublin ENERGETICS Energy Industry Fair was given an Honorary Patronage from the Ministry of Energy.
